Repayment types

Principal and interest	Interest only
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Repayments can be made weekly, fortnightly or monthly.• Each monthly repayment will go towards paying off both your principal (the amount you initially borrowed) as well as the interest portion which is accrued on the loan balance.• TIP: Selecting principal and interest and paying your mortgage off weekly will help you pay off your loan faster as you're paying down the principal portion of the loan more frequently. This is because interest is calculated daily (and charged monthly).	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Repayments can only be made monthly.• You're only paying the interest portion of the loan during the interest only term, and the principal remains untouched; unless you choose to make voluntary principal repayments during this time.• At the end of the interest only term, your repayments will increase as you'll be paying both principal and interest to ensure you remain on track to pay down your loan by your contracted repayment date.• While repayments are lower during the interest only term, you'll pay more interest over the life of the loan.

Borrow up to 95% with Lenders Mortgage Insurance (LMI)

- Borrow up to 95% of the property value on a principal & interest, owner occupier loan by accessing LMI.
- LMI is an insurance that covers NAB if you're unable to meet your loan obligations. It is a one-off premium based on a few things like your loan to value ratio (LVR) and how much you borrow.
- LMI is charged when your LVR is more than 80%. We calculate your LVR by dividing the amount of your home loan by the property valuation. For example, if your property valuation is $500,000 and you borrow $400,000, then your LVR is 80%.
- If LMI is required, we will inform you of the cost and give you the option to pay for it up front or to add it to your loan balance.
